Beauty and the Beast

Magical Adventure

1 One day, Belle was daydreaming in her room as she drew a picture. "I do enjoy living here at the castle," she remarked, "but I wish I could go on an exciting adventure." Mrs. Wardrobe was listening. She flung her doors open wide and showed the princess some dress-up costumes.

2 "Belle, choose an outfit, and a magical adventure awaits you!" Belle tried on a pretty horse riding costume. "Thank you, Mrs. Wardrobe," said Belle. "I love it!"

3 "Now let your amazing adventure begin!" exclaimed Mrs. Wardrobe, as she parted the costumes and showed Belle a secret, magical door.
The excited princess stepped inside...

4 ... into the magical world of a horse show! "Hello there," smiled Belle, as a horse rider came over to meet her.

5 "Hello, Belle," the lady replied. "You are right on time for the jumping competition." Before Belle could say anything, the lady took her to meet her horse.

6 "This is Princess," said the lady. "She is sometimes scared by new things, but I'm sure you can handle her."

7 Princess was timid with Belle at first. But when the princess offered her a sugar lump, the horse decided to be her friend.

8 It was time for the competition to start. Belle rode Princess in front of the judges. "There's nothing to be afraid of," Belle told Princess. The horse was a little nervous.

9 "It's our turn to jump, Princess," said Belle. "Be brave!" Then the princess whispered in her horse's ear. "I sometimes get scared by new things but I always think they are fun once I have tried them."

10 The crowd cheered as the team jumped over the first fence. "Well done, we did it," said Belle to Princess.

11 Princess began to have a good time. When they finished, Belle and Princess were given a very high score. The judges thought they were a great team!

12 The crowd clapped loudly when Belle and Princess won first place! "Here are your rosettes," said the head judge. "Thank you so much," smiled Belle. "And thank you most of all to my horse!"

13 "I had a wonderful day," Belle told Princess, as she found the door to go home. "Thank you for such an amazing magical adventure!"

14 Belle stepped back into her room and told Mrs. Wardrobe all about her day. "I won a first prize rosette in a horse riding competition!" Belle said, proudly.

15 "And now I'm awarding you first prize," said Belle, as she placed her pretty rosette on Mrs. Wardrobe's doors. "For being the absolute best wardrobe in the whole wide world!"

Belle's Pencil Holder

Make this pretty palace pencil holder. Then you will always know where to find your favorite pencils!

You will need:

- colored felt
- scissors
- glitter
- cardboard
- safe glue
- pencil
- cardboard tube

1 Cut your cardboard tube so that it is the right size for holding your favorite pencils. Glue the tube on to a piece of cardboard. Then make the palace roof by folding a piece of cardboard into a cone shape.

2 Decorate the cardboard tube by gluing on felt windows and vines to make it look just like a palace. Stick glitter to the roof and leave to dry. Finally, add all your pencils to your holder.

Good job!

Send us photos of your crafts. They might be featured on the Penpals pages in a future issue!

Disney Cinderella

A Colorful Choice

Read all about how Cinderella made a choice that kept everyone happy.

One day, the palace hosted a royal polo match for two rival teams. "I really love horses," exclaimed Cinderella. "This will be so fun!"

Just then, a royal messenger arrived, carrying two packages.

The first package was wrapped with a pretty pink bow. Inside was a shimmering pink gown with matching gloves and shoes. There was a note from the captain of one of the teams. It read:

'Dear Princess, It would be an honor if you would wear our team's colors to the polo match to show your support.'

The second box was wrapped with a lovely blue bow. Cinderella unwrapped it. Inside she found a gorgeous blue outfit, including a dress, gloves, and shoes!

"The blue team's captain must have sent this gift!" Cinderella said to the Prince.

Indeed, there was a note from the blue team's captain. It read:

'Dear Princess, We would be delighted if you would show your support by wearing our team's colors to the polo match.'

"I can't wear either outfit," sighed Cinderella. "The support of the royal family is so important. It would be wrong to wear one team's colors and not the other's. What shall I do?"

Cinderella watched out the window at the teams practicing on the lawn below. A gust of wind caught the teams' flags and they tangled together, in a flowing streamer of pink and blue.

Smiling, Cinderella reached for the two packages.

The polo match was about to begin. The crowds watching were quiet. The teams, dressed in their pink and blue shirts, waited astride their polo ponies as Cinderella and the Prince walked on to the field. The polo teams knew it would be a very lucky sign if the princess wore their colors.

But when they saw Cinderella she was wearing both teams' colors! She had chosen the pink dress but all of her accessories were blue!

Without saying a word, Cinderella had made the teams realize that good sportsmanship was the most important thing. She wanted everyone to enjoy the polo match.

"Good luck to the pink team," smiled the blue captain.

"Good luck to you, too," the pink captain warmly replied.

Good job, Cinderella!

Ribbon Bouquet

Princess craft project!

Make a beautiful bouquet fit for a princess!

You will need:

paper plate

ribbons

Ask an adult helper to cut a small cross shape in the center of your paper plate. Then fold a piece of ribbon in half and tie a knot in the middle.

Push the ends of your ribbon through the center of the plate. Make more knotted ribbons and add them to your bouquet.

Top tip: Wind another piece of ribbon around the loose ends to make a handle!

Belle's Beauties

Take a peek inside the royal stables with Belle to learn all about her special friends.

Food Fact

Horses like to eat hay, grass, and grain to stay healthy. They love occasional snacks of apples or carrots too.

Baby Horses

A baby horse is called a foal. Foals can walk when they are just one hour old!

Hooves

A horse's feet are made from the same material as our hair and nails. Hooves have to be trimmed like our hair and fingernails too!

Tail

The tail acts as a fly swat and helps horses communicate. The tail also helps a horse balance when he is moving along.

Did you know?

Horses are usually measured in hands, (1 hand = 4 inches). They are measured from the highest point on their shoulders, called the withers, to the ground. Horses shorter than 14½ hands are ponies.

Mane

The hair on a horse's neck is called a mane. The hair between his ears is called a forelock. It helps keep flies out of his eyes.

Fun Fact

Horses can pick things up with their lips!

Sleeping

A horse only sleeps for about three hours a day, and most of that is standing up!

1 Circle the object that you do not need for looking after horses.

2 A baby horse is called a pony.

Note to Parents: This activity encourages reading and comprehension. Answering questions helps develops cognitive skills.

Ocean Antics

Use your favorite colors to complete the picture of Ariel and her seahorse friends.

How many seahorses can you count?

Write the number in the box.

Note to Parents: This activity stimulates creativity and imagination. Praise and encourage your child's efforts.

Answer - don't peek!

There are 5 seahorses.

Mermaid Mystery

Can you find six differences between the two pictures below?

Answers don't peek! The changes in picture 2 are: Ariel's crown has a piece missing, the orange fish's tail is pink, the bubbles top left are missing, a seahorse's hair has changed color, a seahorse's fin has changed color, and a piece of seaweed is smaller.

Note to Parents: This activity will help enhance close observation and cognitive skills.

Magical Maze

Can you find a path through the maze to the castle that will lead Cinderella past every pumpkin?

THE LITTLE MERMAID

Sister Trouble!

1 It was Royal Race Day in Atlantica and the mermaid family was going to the horse races. Ariel's sisters were busy fighting over which outfits to wear. King Triton was not impressed. "Your behavior is not very princess-like, girls!" he stormed.

2 "Ariel, I'm trusting you with this," said King Triton, giving Ariel his trident. "Hopefully its magic will help your sisters stop arguing!"

3 Ariel took the trident. "See you at the races," she waved to her father. King Triton left to attend to royal business.

4 The mermaids set out in a dazzling shell carriage. Before long, they were arguing again. They all wanted the best view from the window!

5 Just then, the trident began to shimmer with magic...

6 ... and suddenly, their carriage turned into an old wooden cart! "Oh, no!" cried the sisters. "We can't go to the races in this!"

7 "Come on," said Ariel. "Let's swim instead." Her sisters reluctantly agreed and they soon arrived at the racetrack.

8 The peace didn't last. In the royal box, the sisters couldn't agree on where to sit!

9 "Oh, dear!" exclaimed Ariel. The trident shimmered and cast its magic again. A huge flower bush sprouted up! Now the sisters couldn't see the racetrack at all.

10 Next, the girls fought over who should present the trophy to the winning seahorse. "I'll do it," yelled Aquata. "No, me!" wailed Arista. The trident cast its magic, and the trophy turned into an old boot! "Oh, dear," sighed Ariel. "We really can't carry on like this!"

11 "Listen, everyone," said Ariel. "Every time we argue, Daddy's trident uses its magic to punish us." Finally all the sisters could agree!

12 They knew Ariel was right. The sisters had to work as a team. The boot wasn't a very good trophy, but they decided to present it to the winner together.

13 The sisters had learnt their lesson. Because they were being kinder, the trident undid its spell. The old boot turned into a golden trophy again!

14 King Triton arrived. "I see my trident worked," he smiled. "Well done for setting such a good example to your sisters, Ariel."

15 The sisters had learnt their lesson about teamwork and kindness. The trident turned the old cart back into the pretty shell carriage.

16 The sisters took turns to look out of the window as they rode home, and they didn't argue once!
